High quality damp proofing now available for North West homes

Thursday 31 October, 2013

Damp proofing and condensation specialists, Damp Solutions Ltd have opened an office in the North West of England in Hartford, Cheshire, a move that will make a unique and highly effective damp proofing system available to home and property owners across Cheshire and the surrounding counties.

Damp Solutions services include the treatment of rising damp, penetrating damp, structural damp and condensation in residential and commercial properties. The directors of Damp Solutions have been in the business for 30 years and all of their systems are quick to install, clean and proven to work.

For the treatment of rising damp, they recommend an exclusive damp proofing system called DS Tubes. This system uses highly porous tubes to attract and absorb moisture from damp walls. DS Tubes is a product that has been modified and laboratory tested exclusively for Damp Solutions and is already fitted in many properties. Unlike other damp proofing systems, DS Tubes is fitted externally, which means they do not need to enter the home to install it and therefore no need for re-plastering or re-decorating. This is an ideal solution for home owners with children.

Damp Solutions Director, Martin Kennerley said:“Damp is a very common problem in older properties; these were typically built without sufficient damp proofing. Those properties with a damp proof often find that the course has been compromised over time due to wear and tear.”

“There are an abundance of older properties throughout the North West and the surrounding areas that will be faced with damp problems, so it made sense for us to open our new office here in Hartford, Cheshire,” adds Martin.

Damp Solutions offers a FREE no-obligation survey. They use specialist damp proofing equipment to carry out a detailed inspection, review the findings and then discuss the likely causes of any damp problem. They will then discuss with you the different treatment options available, in addition to their own systems, and then come up with a plan to treat and prevent future damp occurring.

If you have a damp problem – mould on walls and ceilings, steaming windows, decaying brickwork or the tell-tale musty smell - and need a quality damp proofing company in the North West call Damp Solutions to book a free no-obligation damp survey today on 0800 500 3140 or visit us online at Damp Solutions
