Infinigate Wins EMEA Distribution Partner of the Year in Ivanti's 2023 Partner of the Year Awards

Friday 15 March, 2024

Rotkreuz, Switzerland – 15 March 2023 – Ivanti, the tech company that breaks down barriers between IT and security so that Everywhere Work can thrive, named Infinigate as an EMEA Distribution Partner of the Year in Ivanti's 2023 Partner of the Year Awards, which honours Ivanti's top-performing partners — recognizing their significant contributions to customers and remarkable business impact.

"In 2023, we forged strong partnerships by locking arms with our partners that have yielded noteworthy achievements on a global scale. We are excited to recognise our partners for their unparalleled hard work and vital contributions to the partner ecosystem," said Michelle Hodges, SVP of Global Channel, and Alliances at Ivanti. "We are grateful for their investment, loyalty and partnership, and look forward to celebrating more successes together in 2024."

Patric Berger, SVP Vendor Alliances at Infinigate, commented: "We are honoured to receive this accolade from Ivanti, the result of close collaboration and alignment, and excited about our future prospects for ongoing growth across EMEA. We share a common ethos of innovation and customer service focus which is a strong foundation for a successful partnership. We are proud of our teams and salute their achievement."

The Partner of the Year Awards recognise Ivanti partners' incredible contributions across various routes to markets and regions. The selection criteria included a comprehensive yearly analysis and rankings related to each award category for each partner in their respective regions. These factors ensured that the award selection process was both thorough and fair, reflecting the recipients' true contribution and impact.

Award winners will be honoured at the Ivanti Partner Summit on April 9, 2024 during the Ivanti Solutions Summit.
