

Satoshi Nakamoto to Reveal Legal Identity on 31 October 2024

London, United Kingdom / October 30, 2024 / After over a decade of speculation and mystery, the world will finally learn the true identity of Satoshi Nakamoto, the elusive inventor of Bitcoin and the foundational Blockchain technology. On this momentous occasion, Nakamoto will reveal his legal identity in a live press conference, marking a historic event in the cryptocurrency landscape.

Nakamoto, whose whitepaper launched the world's first decentralized cryptocurrency in 2008, has cited growing legal pressures as a driving factor for this decision. "The time has come for me to officially reveal my identity. I am facing significant legal challenges, and I believe the world deserves to know the truth," Nakamoto stated.

The announcement coincides with the anniversary of Bitcoin's whitepaper release and will provide verifiable proof to confirm Nakamoto's identity once and for all. This unprecedented revelation marks the end of more than 15 years of anonymity and signals a new chapter for Bitcoin and Blockchain technology.
