5 FARMING WITH NATURE

AUTHOR: GWCT / PRICE: £12.00

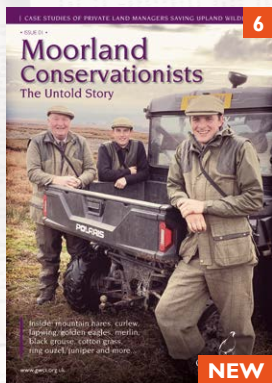

This new book provides a practical guide to how conservation efforts aimed at the grey partridge can benefit farmland biodiversity. It summarises the leading research into grey partridge conservation and sets the context of partridge decline and the farmland biodiversity crisis across Europe, plus the techniques developed to reverse that decline. Written by the GWCT's Julie Ewald, Francis Buner and Jen Brewin, the 104-page book features wonderful illustrations and lay-flat binding for easier reading.

12 SAVING OUR LAPWING: A GUIDE TO SUCCESSFUL WORKING CONSERVATION

AUTHOR: GWCT / PRICE: £5.00

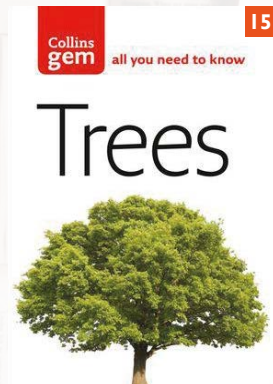

Saving Our Lapwing documents the story of a remarkable project to restore lapwing to a Hampshire valley. The LIFE Waders for Real initiative, set up by the GWCT, has managed to reverse the downward trend of lapwing and other waders in the Avon Valley. Central to that success has been the commitment of 40 local land managers working together on a landscape scale to help their lapwing population.

FERRUM

THE WORLD'S FIRST FLUID
WITH WET DRYING CAPABILITIES

PRO-FERRUM PROTECTS GUNS & PREVENTS RUST

Pro-Ferrum is not a traditional oil - it is a new super fluid which serves as both a cleaner and lubricant that is suitable for use on shotguns and rifles.

Pro-Ferrum protects guns and prevents rust. It comes in three sizes, with the 50ml bottle ideal for taking out on shoot days while the larger sizes are stored at home.

It is the only oil in the world that absorbs water. This wet drying ability means water is absorbed by oil even from the smallest cavities.

It's ultra-fine formula is designed to adhere to sprayed surfaces leaving a protective film inside and outside of barrels and on actions. Better still it is completely safe to be used on wood and other materials too without damaging or affecting their finish.

The lubricating properties of Pro-Ferrum are such that it doesn't bind with grit or sand to form abrasive compounds which could damage the workings of a gun, and will break down old oil and grease deposits with ease.

GWCT ONLINE WILDLIFE ART GALLERY

With so many fairs and auctions cancelled this year, there are fewer opportunities to buy wildlife art. The GWCT Gallery allows you to purchase fabulous works by leading wildlife artists from the comfort of your own home and with the knowledge that a generous 25% from each sale will go directly to GWCT research. In addition to the pieces displayed, you can commission the artists to create new works.

GUEST ARTISTS

Ashley Boon

An award winning wildlife artist whose stunning sketches and watercolours celebrate the natural world in all its dramatic beauty.

Ian Greensitt

Specialising in limited edition bronze sculptures of game birds and game fish, much sought after worldwide. No two bronzes are the same.

Rodger McPhail

Widely regarded as one of the most accomplished wildlife artists. At home working in watercolours and oils, he is a master of detail.

Game & Wildlife CONSERVATION TRUST

The Game & Wildlife Conservation Trust is the leading UK charity conducting scientific research to enhance the British countryside for public benefit. For over 75 years we have been researching and developing game and wildlife management techniques. We provide training and advice to farmers, gamekeepers and land managers on how best to improve the biodiversity of the countryside.

All profits from our gift shop help support the vital work our passionate and committed team of scientists conduct.
