

For immediate release, 7th November 2016

Deloitte Vice-Chairman Joins Transform People International

Transform People International is pleased to announce the appointment of Louis Jordan as Partner and Chairman. Louis joins Transform People International having recently retired from Deloitte, where he was Partner and Vice-Chairman. Ian Mills, CEO at Transform People said, "Louis is a wonderful addition to our team. His wealth of experience and market-leading insight will enable Transform People International to continue to offer our clients the kind of thought-leadership they have come to expect. This will accelerate our growth and build upon our recent investments in predictive analytics, academic research and our transformational toolkit."

Louis Jordan said, "Having spent many years as a Partner at KPMG and more recently as Vice Chairman and Partner at Deloitte, I am excited to be working with this energetic and creative team. Our business proposition is compelling and sits at the heart of what most organisations strive for - accelerated performance in every area. Having worked closely together in the past, I know that the quality and ability of the people at Transform People International is second to none and the focus on clients is outstanding. I am looking forward to working with the team to take the business into a period of rapid growth and expansion."

About Transform People International

Transform People International is a performance improvement consultancy that delivers positive change through people by transforming their attitudes, mind-sets, and behaviours, as well as the application of data analytics and related process improvement. We have worked in over 50 countries for global companies such as American Express, Cisco, Deloitte, HP, RBS and Virgin Media. www.transformpeople.com