We set out to create 'the champagne of CBD oils', with more beneficial cannabis phytochemicals than any other CBD products compliant and legal for sale today. Our premium, THC-free products are both UK-born and UK-manufactured, thus debuting in Selfridges London seems very appropriate."

BRITISH CANNABIS™ launched a television campaign in March 2022 for its premium flagship range, CBD by BRITISH CANNABIS™, as part of a half a million pound investment in awareness building and consumer recruitment 2022/23.

Set in the style of a classic health and beauty advert, the creative aimed to break down barriers to legal cannabis-derived products, gaining broadcaster approval to make more industry-specific references than any campaign to date. Shown across dozens of premium channels on the SKY and Channel 5 networks, this marked the first time that the SKY network had opened its doors to CBD advertisers on their linear stations since 2019.

BRITISH CANNABIS™ Managing Director, David Ralson, commented on the launch: "As proud as we are of our tested, trusted, super-premium CBD supplements and cosmetics, we are equally proud to now be bringing them to the world-class shopping experience at Selfridges, as part of our distribution expansion plans.

For over a century, Selfridges have brought premium health and beauty products to the forefront in exciting ways – and especially in their new Feel Good Bar. As one of the UK's original British-made CBD ranges, with a heritage in this young industry of nearly seven years, the match of Selfridges and CBD by BRITISH CANNABIS™ seems a perfect fit.

I hope that Selfridges shoppers grow to love and trust our CBD range as much as our existing loyal customer base, who over the years have given us over 1,500 5-star reviews on Trustpilot."
