Stars of the bread-baking world from across the UK gathered in London last night Tuesday 7 October 2014 for the announcement of the winners of the second Tiptree World Bread Awards

At a harvest supper-style awards ceremony at St John's Church, Hyde Park, Chris Newenham, Farm Director of Tiptree, headline sponsor of the awards, was delighted to hand the trophy and cheque for £1000 to the overall winner Peter Cook of Peter Cook's Bread, Bishops Frome for his Ciabatta. Peter also won a KitchenAid Artisan 6.9L Stand Mixer, KitchenAid, Artisan Two Slice Toaster and KitchenAid Artisan 1.5L Kettle and a Tiptree Hamper.

"The Ciabatta was almost perfect," says Stephen Hallam, Master Baker, Managing Director of Dickinson & Morris and Chair of the Judges which included Charles Campion, MasterChef, David Tomlinson, former Technical Director, Warburtons and Andrew Whitley, Founder The Real Bread Campaign. "We had very exacting criteria for judging, and every loaf was judged anonymously."

Peter Cook, whose Ciabatta was made with flour from Shipton Mill, beat off competition from hundreds of loaves sent in from around the United Kingdom to take the crown, brought by courier, taxi and even hand-delivered on the morning of the judging at Cathedral Hall, Westminster Cathedral, to ensure peak freshness.

The Tiptree World Bread Awards, launched in January of last year, seek to celebrate the very best of British bread baking. With 12 million loaves sold in the UK every day, it is an industry that certainly deserves to be celebrated. "The choice and range of bread in Britain today has never been greater," says Caroline Kenyon, Director of the Awards.
