About Akashic Ventures: http://www.akashicventures.co.uk/#about

Event marketing specialists, Akashic Venture, are experts in creating dynamic and engaging spaces where they can represent their client's brand and interact with consumers on a personal level. As an outsourcing solution to businesses, Akashic Venture boasts a team of expertly trained and highly professional sales contractors that work to increase customer acquisitions for their client while promoting a positive brand identity. Incorporation to providing their clients with a first-class service, the firm and it's MD invest in developing the next wave of sales and marketing talent by sharing their experiences, inspirations and skills with young people.

As part of their investment in young future, the firm recently held a meeting on creating a 'no limitations' mind-set. A person with a no limits mindset is willing to step outside of the predefined box and can think and look at things in a different way to most other individuals in society. Akashic Ventures state that this is important in a competitive industry such as sales and marketing where people get out what they put in.

This is because individuals with a no limits mindset have certain qualities that help to program their brain in a way that will recognise situations and resources needed to achieve set goals and life dreams. A person with this type of mindset will believe that they are the only thing that can hold themselves back from success; there are no excuses, and if they want something enough, they will work hard to get it. If they are set back along the way, then this type of person will get back up and utilise the experience as a learning opportunity and momentum to move forward even bigger and stronger. They also never quit, even when things get hard.

Akashic Ventures hopes that this session will inspire their workforce to think bigger and set more new professional and personal goals because once the mindset is right, there are no limits on life's achievements.
