

Announcing the launch of The United Free Press - A new association for freedom of speech in journalism.

Thursday 28 April, 2022

Press Release - 27th April 2022

Are you worried by the exponential rise of journalistic censorship?

Announcing the launch of The United Free Press - A new association for freedom of speech in journalism.

In response to the accelerating censorship, de-platforming, and demonetisation facing independent journalists, we have formed an association to defend the crucial rights of free speech and journalistic integrity which are essential to a free, open and transparent democratic society.

The United Free Press was created by a collective of independent journalists who have endured censorship in all its forms, including harassment, de-platforming, de-monetisation and cancel-culture.

The UFP aims to not only defend the freedom of speech within journalism but to also restore credibility to journalism by ensuring that all members follow the cornerstone of the association - the UFP Charter of Ethics - striving for the highest standards of factual reporting, free from bias and vested interests.

We are calling for all involved in journalism, professional or amateur, to join us.
