

ASL Group Ltd joins Epson's Printer Revolution

Monday 20 April, 2015

Automated System Group Ltd (ASL) is one of a carefully selected number of print service partners offering the latest Epson Workforce Pro RIPS (Replaceable Ink Pack System) range of business inkjet multi-function printers (MFPs).

Drawing on its inkjet printhead technology, PrecisionCore, used in many of Epson's latest industrial and commercial printers, the new WorkForce Pro RIPS range offers businesses uninterrupted printing for up to 75,000 pages without the need for a consumables change. Epson's Workforce Pro RIPS has been designed to address the impact of printer downtime and maintenance issues within the workplace while offering the convenience of a localised printer fleet, with the predictable costs of a centralised model.

With duplex printing, compatibility with Document Capture Pro and Email Print for Enterprise workflow solutions, the WorkForce Pro RIPS range is all about business. WorkForce Pro RIPS significantly lowers the environmental burden of logistics and recycling of toners, photoconductors, drums and packaging often associated with competitive laser printers. This can help companies meet their environmental targets and eliminates the need to manage complicated collection and recycling programmes. Furthermore, the printers deliver up to 50% lower costs per page and 80% lower energy consumption offering businesses a more environmentally friendly option than traditional laser models.

ASL is one of the largest independent print suppliers in the UK, providing a range of solutions from leading manufacturers and an official retailer of the Epson Workforce Pro RIPS range.

The three models available, under Managed Print Services (MPS) agreement, are the colour A4 WorkForce Pro WF-R5190DTW and the WF-R5690DTWF, and the colour A3 WF-R8590DTWF.

A Managed Print Service solution from ASL gives customers the added benefit of cutting edge remote monitoring to keep printer networks up and running, ordering toner and collecting meter readings.

Mark Garius, Managing Director of ASL says, "We are very pleased to be able to offer the Epson Workforce Pro RIPS range to our customers. The range has been designed to be reliable and robust and allows customers to maintain predictable costs as well as being environmentally aware. In conjunction with an ASL Managed Print Service agreement, businesses can benefit from peace of mind and efficiency with same day response from highly trained engineers to reduce any downtime, full training on all products and print software and flexible finance solutions".
