

Avant Garde Ideals to Host Direct Marketing Seminar in Manchester

Friday 11 July, 2014

The head office of Manchester based sales and marketing firm Avant Garde Ideals played host to professionals from various industries, all looking for an insight into the direct marketing world in an educational seminar.

CEO Paul Weston hosted a short 45min seminar on Tuesday 8th July 2014, which was put together as an introduction to the world of off-line marketing and to promote the benefits of implementing direct marketing solutions.

This seminar is a must for marketing assistants, strategists, small business owners and freelancers responsible for direct marketing campaigns. In just 45 minutes, Avant Garde Ideals' claim attendees learnt how to ensure they are working smarter to achieve greater results for their clients. With many businesses struggling to engage correctly with their customers, it's more important than ever for small businesses to start off on the right foot and ensure they are reaching out to customers in an effective and personal way. Avant Garde Ideals hope that the seminar helped professionals understand the importance of going back to basics and promoting a face to face interactive approach within their own working practices.

The attendees listened to a range of topics including what direct marketers should measure, the importance of measuring market performance and how marketer can accurately measure the most meaningful metrics (sales). The seminar also provided the attendees with a simple yet helpful technique on how to cut through industry jargon, which is a must for young business owners and those who are fairly new to the industry.

Avant Garde Ideals is a Manchester-based sales and marketing firm who specialise in creating and executing direct marketing strategies for their clients.
