A fun, functional and spacious lunch box designed in the style of a book and practical for food partitioning or portioning.

An introduction from Dan Black, lead designer and co-founder of black+blum:

“READ ALL ABOUT IT! This is a lunch box disguised as a book, with just the right balance of function & fun. It's ideal for older children (those who've outgrown super hero lunchboxes) & adults with a sense of humour. The elastic strap is synonymous with traditional bento boxes and retro notebooks, so there's a natural link between the two. It has the modern iconic look of a book & charm of a vintage journal.”
