Bodybuilding Warehouse announce opening of state of the art factory

Wednesday 18 December, 2013

Bodybuilding Warehouse, a leading provider of sports supplements, has just announced the opening of a new state of the art factory within their 21,078 sq ft Warehouse in Trafford Park, Manchester.

Founded in 2008, Bodybuilding Warehouse is fast becoming the UK's leading on-line sports supplement super store, offering both branded and own brand products. The launch of the new factory also brings the new PURE range to the already extensive Bodybuilding Warehouse brand. PURE houses a range of ultra-premium supplements based around simple, single ingredients. PURE is what it says it is – simple, powerful ingredients, delivered in the highest quality at the best price.

The new state of the art factory means that Bodybuilding Warehouse are now able to create all their products in house, ensuring top quality ingredients, packaging and service, all at a the best prices possible. Managing Director, Kieran Fisher said "We have already launched over 100 products from our brand new factory, including PURE Whey Protein Concentrate 80, Pure Whey Protein Isolate 95 and Pure Hydrolysed Whey. The feedback from customers has been fantastic – they love the taste, mix-ability and quality. We plan to launch another 200 new products within the range by Christmas, including several sports nutrition firsts."

Following the launch of Bodybuilding Warehouse PURE, will be Bodybuilding Warehouse Performance V2 - a range aimed at sports men and woman, who want professional result with supplement formulas aimed at improving their performance within competition. There is something for everyone at Bodybuilding Warehouse. Their ultra-premium quality ingredients, State-of-the-Art factory and bright Orange branding make them stand out from other online supplement retailers, and the one to watch as we go into 2014.
