

BodyBuilding Warehouse Launch New E Commerce Site and Sports Supplement Competition

Thursday 19 January, 2012

The UK's leading sports supplement superstore has re-launched its website to help customers find a wide range of bodybuilding and sports supplements. As well as totally re-vamping the site, they have also increased the range of products which they can offer, with over 70 brands from around the world, many difficult or impossible to find elsewhere. Bodybuilding Warehouse also provide their own range of sports supplements, offering good quality, value and taste.

The Competition

To promote the new site launch, BBW are opening up a competition where the lucky winner will receive a stack of bodybuilding supplements worth over a hundred pounds, including whey protein, fat burning caps and green tea. To be in with a chance of winning you simply need to complete a short survey about your workout and exercise regimes. The survey should only take a few minutes to complete and includes simple questions about gym membership, eating habits and supplement use. It ends at midday on Thursday 16th February, when a winner will be selected.

The Prize Stack includes:

- 1)BBW Premium Whey - 3kg - £34.99
- 2)Warrior Blaze fat burner - 90 Caps - £29.99
- 3)Green Tea - 120 Tabs - £10.99
- 4)BBW Smart Shake - £7.99
- 5)BBW Lifting Straps - £3.99
- 6)BBW Excel - 10 x £1.99 sachets

Total value = £107.85

Founded in 2008 with just 7 products, Bodybuilding Warehouse now occupies a 7,000 square foot warehouse in Manchester with a team of staff, thousands of products, and a national presence in all the major magazines. Bodybuilding Warehouse are the fastest growing sports supplement company in the UK.

Customer service is a top priority for BBW. They're one of the few supplement retailers in the UK who offer free advice via phone or email, offering an archive of diet, training and supplement articles, forum discussions, videos and more.
