Bodybuilding Warehouse teams up with one of the World’s largest Health ingredients manufacturers to release PeptoPro!

Tuesday 17 December, 2013

Bodybuilding Warehouse has teamed up with one of the World’s largest manufacturers of Health Ingredients to release PeptoPro! PeptoPro is an advanced peptide formulation that contains all 20 amino acids needed for muscle growth. PeptoPro has been shown to boost post-workout recovery speed, stimulate post-exercise insulin release, increase protein synthesis both during and after exercise, and increase sports performance leading to greater gains on the field and in the gym.

Bodybuilding Warehouse have chosen to launch PeptoPro in their new Pure range of ultra-premium sports supplements that they manufacture in-house, within their state of the art production facility in Manchester. Kieran Fisher, Managing Director of Bodybuilding Warehouse says, “After reading about the benefits of PeptoPro and seeing the studies, we had to launch it. Our customers look for the best ingredients in the world and PeptoPro is one of them. We’ll be launching both unflavoured and flavoured versions using the talents of our in-house research and development team to create some amazing flavours. We may even include it in some of our bespoke blends in future as well. Our customers deserve the best, and that’s what we’re delivering to them.”

Bodybuilding Warehouse are one of the UK’s largest sports nutrition companies, manufacturing all their own supplements in-house in a state of the art facility within their 21,078sqft warehouse in Manchester. They are one of the UK’s leading manufacturers, distributers and retailers of sports supplement products and have grown rapidly over the past 5 years to become a leader in this field.
