

Boogie Bounce Gets Thumbs-up from Exercise Industry Experts

Tuesday 28 November, 2017

When it comes to innovative, safe and effective exercise to music on trampolines, Boogie Bounce – with more than two decades of expertise – has always led the way.

And now the initiative has received a prestigious stamp of approval from industry experts.

‘Queen of the Trampoline’, Jenny Belcher – who founded Boogie Bounce 21 years ago - has seen her training courses recognised by the prestigious Register of Exercise Professionals.

The official nod from REPS means that Boogie Bounce is now the UK’s leading provider of training for exercising on T-bar handle mini trampolines.

Jenny, 52, says: “We’ve always known that our training courses were the best – but now it’s official!”

“It’s wonderful to know that our training programme has been put through its paces – and approved - by exercise professionals following stringent procedures. The go-ahead from REPS is a recognised benchmark within the industry. We couldn’t be prouder.

“Now that we’re launching in our ninth country – the USA – I felt we needed to have this kudos and benchmark of quality.”

REPs is an independent, public register which recognises the qualifications and expertise of exercise instructors in the UK, explains Jenny.

And membership means more than simply assuring the public that trainers and instructors meet the health and fitness industry’s agreed National Occupational Standards.

Boogie Bounce can now offer esteemed Continual Professional Development points to exercise professionals who complete its courses. (REP members must accumulate 24 points over two years). A one day Boogie Bounce course (valid for those who already have fitness or Exercise to Music qualifications) will provide nine CPD points.

“CPD is a way for exercise professionals to demonstrate that they are continuing to learn and develop throughout their careers, keep their skills and knowledge up to date and work safely, legally and effectively,” says Jenny.

And one day training course certificates are just the start of things to come. “We are now working towards a three day course that offers qualifications in Boogie Bounce and Level 2 Exercise to Music – in addition to the CPD points – also incorporating extensive on-line training,” says Jenny. “It means that people who want to start a career in the fitness industry will consider coming to us first and foremost – knowing they’re getting the best training there is.

“We’re also endorsed for Boogie Bounce Kids (6-11 year olds) and will be looking to get endorsing Revolution (circuit training type workout). Our membership of REPS will be renewed on an annual basis – again assuring our 55,000 bouncers that Boogie Bounce is at the top of its game and will be staying there!

“Twenty one years after pioneering the very first exercise to music classes on trampolines – and three years after introducing our revolutionary T-bar support - we are continuing to lead the way.”
