

Brand new iPhone app: Gizow: the wireless networking card

Monday 25 November, 2013

LOOK-TAP-CONNECT – Introducing a unique and revolutionary new way to discover and connect to people near you: Gizow.

By enabling you to search people by GPS/location rather than by name, Gizow introduces a whole new way to meet new contacts. From making new business connections and increasing your sales to finding a date and falling in love, Gizow makes connecting with people near you easier and than ever.

Gizow is not a social network it's a transmitter for social networks, it's a friend finder, a wireless business card, GPS contacts list and a great way to meet people.

How it Works

Gizow's GPS 'radar map' displays the nearest Gizow users plotted around you. To see a user's name and profile picture you simply lift your phone up and LOOK toward them.

If you'd like to see more than just a name and picture you can TAP them to send a connection request. If they agree to CONNECT, you'll both swap details.

Those details can be as many or few as you want; from just your public Facebook profile to your website, email, phone, business information; Twitter, LinkedIn, online dating public profiles... as many or few details as you wish.

Gizow, gives you as much control over your information as the business card in your pocket, it just makes it easier for people to ask you for it!

Gizow is free of charge and available for download from the Apple App Store now.
Gizow is currently only available for UK users.
