Afternoon Tea Vouchers include a flight on the BA i360 and sumptuous tea by the sea, while Fast Track Flight Vouchers include priority boarding and a complimentary guidebook.

Recipients of the gift vouchers will be able to enjoy 360 degree views of the stunning Regency city and surrounding South Downs and Sussex coastline from Bexhill-on-Sea to Chichester.

Sean Watkins, head of marketing at British Airways i360, said, “We are hugely excited about the launch of these gift vouchers, offering the unique gift of a flight on the world's first vertical cable car and the world's tallest moving observation tower.”

“Recipients of a gift voucher will be able to book their flight next summer from six weeks before the BA i360 opens. Vouchers are valid for one year after issue.”

Conceived and designed by Marks Barfield Architects, creators of the London Eye, the British Airways i360 opens next summer.

At the foot of the tower will be a beach building with a brasserie with sea views and an outside beach-side terrace serving food from “Sussex's larder” where visitors will be able to enjoy breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea or dinner.

The beach building also includes a range of facilities for visitors including the shop, an exhibition, hospitality rooms for 10 to 1,000 people and an indoor kids play zone.
