British based eCommerce experts increase their American Presence

Thursday 20 April, 2017

The original free eCommerce platform, Freewebstore, have announced that they are to exhibit at the Internet Retailer Conference and Exhibition (IRCE) event in Chicago on June 6th-9th.

Freewebstore, who have recently opened an office in San Francisco, are keen to increase their presence within the American eCommerce market and continue with their positive global growth strategy.

Managing director Martin Hermansen said this:

“After seeing positive growth within America, we are delighted to be able to announce we are attending the IRCE event in Chicago. We will be networking with our global partners and will have the chance to meet some of our American users. This, as well as the new office in San Francisco, is yet further proof of our continued growth on investment in North America”

The event includes a three day exhibition attended by over 6,000 qualified online retailers and is attended by global partners such as PayPal, TrustPilot and eBay.
