Buy a Piece History: The Sofa and Chair Company Release Rare Products that are 25 Million Years Old

Tuesday 6 November, 2012

With the new release of petrified wood fossil tables, The Sofa and Chair Company have created a lot conversation from these stunning additions to their designer furniture collection. Formed from wood that is over 25 million years old, these magnificent pieces were once a living tree but over time have been covered with sediment and debris, often without access to oxygen. During this phase, all the organic parts of the trees structure are turned to minerals, like Quartz, Iron and Calcite, leaving them enriched with spectacular colours.

Petrified wood is very rare and The Sofa and Chair Company are very excited to have them in store, especially as they have travelled all the way from Indonesia. These versatile pieces can be used as chairs around a dining table to create a stunning and very unique dining area; alternatively, they can double up as tables that can be dotted around a home as required. Selected for their unique style and enviable nature, they look superb in any residence.

Ayo Ogunde, Marketing Manager at The Sofa and Chair Company said “I simply adore these pieces; they look beautiful when used in conjunction with modern sofas, and the fact that each piece is completely unique and millions of years old, they are highly desirable.” She went on to say, “The rings and markings can be clearly seen and as they are so sturdy these pieces are perfect for outdoor seating and/ or tables as they require almost no maintenance.”

Petrified Wood is believed by some to calm the nerves and fears and to encourage feelings of well-being, safety and security. Helping to eliminate worry and to distinguish between what is important and what is not. Petrified Wood is also said to be the stone for business success.
