Capital City Electrical Services Launches New Website

Thursday 21 April, 2022

Capital City Electrical Services (CCES) is delighted to announce the launch of its brand new website. With more people than ever before relying on the internet to find services, a strong digital presence is crucial. The new CCES website is designed to provide customers with a more intuitive and enhanced customer browsing experience.

CCES believe in customer excellence in all aspects of its business. They recognise that in a growing digital market, businesses must adapt in order to optimise and improve their online presence. The launch of a new website is a key part of this evolution for CCES. The new site is designed to be more visually appealing and offers simplified navigation and ease of use. Importantly, it also provides the latest information on their electrical services and a ‘Request call back’ function which makes it easy for customers to get in touch.

Steven Wright Director at CCES noted, “We are delighted to announce the launch of our new website as it plays an important part in our business. We believe its fresh new design gives customers a more user-friendly, positive browsing experience while learning about us and our range of electrical services."

Capital City Electrical Services is a successful NICEIC approved electrical contractor in Edinburgh. Established in 2008, they have years of experience in the industry so it is not surprising that they are experts in their profession. Over the years, they have built up a large client base which includes letting agents, local businesses and homeowners. They undertake work in Edinburgh, the Lothians and across Scotland. Their electricians are competent, highly trained and reliable. They aim to make every job proceed with as little disruption and inconvenience as possible. Their work is always of the highest standard and fully guaranteed.

As CCES offerings have grown, it was important that their new website was able to showcase their full range of electrical services. These include EICR and PAT testing, lighting installation, home electric upgrades, smoke alarm installation and electrical repairs, to name but a few. Their latest service, home and workplace EV charge point installation is also featured on their new site. As OZEV accredited EV charger installers, CCES offer this new service throughout Scotland.
