

Charity chief comes to Kingsbridge and District tinnitus support group

Wednesday 24 April, 2019

24 April 2019 A speaker from the British Tinnitus Association (BTA) will be talking at the next meeting of the Kingston tinnitus support group to help them celebrate their 10th anniversary. The meeting will take place at 2.00pm – 4.00pm Monday 20 May, at The Rest Centre, The Quay, Kingsbridge, Devon TQ7 1OG.

The volunteer led allows people with tinnitus to come together in a friendly environment and share their experiences.

David Stockdale, Chief Executive of the BTA will be discussing how to manage tinnitus, and talking about the work the BTA does to support people with the condition as well as talking about the latest research news.

David comments: "I look forward to coming to Kingsbridge and speaking with the support group. It's great to be able to help them celebrate their 10th anniversary, and is a credit to the hardworking volunteers who keep the group running. Being among people who have tinnitus, listening to their experiences and how they manage it, can be inspirational. I feel I learn something every time I attend a group meeting. It is amazing seeing the difference it makes to people, especially those who have recently been diagnosed."

Tinnitus is defined as the experience of sounds with no external source, most commonly ringing or buzzing, but sometimes experienced as whooshing, clicking or even music. Many people aren't troubled by sounds they hear, but for around 10%, the condition has a significant impact on their quality of life, often linked to stress, anxiety or sometimes depression.

David adds: "Tinnitus can be an isolating condition, and we're keen to spread the word that there are management techniques which can help a person lead the best life they can, and to reduce the burden of living with this condition."
