

Charity speaker comes to Thanet tinnitus support group

Thursday 10 October, 2019

10 October 2019 An expert from the British Tinnitus Association (BTA) will be speaking at the next meeting of the Thanet tinnitus support group. The meeting will take place 10.00am – 12 noon Saturday 9 November, at the Community Room, Tesco Extra (Westwood Cross), 475 Margate Road, Broadstairs, CT10 2QJ.

The group, led by local volunteer Claire Edgeworth, enables people with tinnitus to meet others with the condition, hear useful tips on coping methods, find out what help is available and hear about the latest research.

Jess Pollard, from the BTA's fundraising team will be giving a talk about the work the BTA does to support those who experience tinnitus, and the importance of fundraising for the organisation, which receives no direct government or NHS support.

Jess comments: "I look forward to coming to Kent and speaking with the support group. Being among people who have tinnitus, listening to their experiences and how they manage it, can be inspirational. I feel I learn something every time I attend a group meeting. It is amazing seeing the difference it makes to people, especially those who have recently been diagnosed."

Tinnitus is defined as the experience of sounds with no external source, most commonly ringing or buzzing, but sometimes experienced as whooshing, clicking or even music. Around one in eight people experience persistent tinnitus. Many people aren't troubled by sounds they hear, but for around 10%, the condition has a significant impact on their quality of life, often linked to stress, anxiety or sometimes depression.

Jess adds: "Tinnitus can be an isolating condition, and we're keen to spread the word that there are management techniques which can help a person lead the best life they can, and to reduce the burden of living with this condition."
