Choose The Oriental for a little indulgence

Thursday 6 September, 2012

Boutique Brighton hotel The Oriental are committed to going that extra mile to make sure you have a pleasurable stay with them. The hotel, situated a stone's throw from Brighton city centre and seafront, was recently listed in The Sunday Times Travel Magazine world's best 100 city hotels for under £100, and it isn't hard to see why. The retro romantic décor and en suite spa baths add a sense of luxury, without breaking the budget.

The Oriental believes in supporting local companies, and has teamed up with services in the area to offer a host of extras available during your stay:

• Spa Treatments in the comfort of your own room offered by trained beauty therapists.
• Flowers from Amaryllis Florists
• Cava, prosecco or champagne on arrival
• Gourmet chocolate truffles and cakes
• A range of beautifully presented love boxes to be in your room on arrival for those special occasions.

Whether your stay is for business or pleasure, The Oriental is a far cry from the standard, dated seaside resorts. The stylish bar is popular with both visitors and locals, and a great place for a pre dinner drink. Once the notorious 'Brighton Belle' club, it attracted some high profile visitors including the likes of Boy George and Norman Cook. Nowadays, the plush interior and extensive cocktail list really do make you feel like you are in a 5* resort. The hotel has also had a long standing support of local artwork, which you can see on prominent display throughout the building.

About The Oriental

The Oriental was originally opened by one of Brighton's most successful entrepreneurs. It underwent a massive refurbishment in 2008, and current owners are keen to keep the unique, homely feel by offering a personal and friendly service. A range of rooms are available, all with LCD TV's, dvd players, wifi and oriental silk headboards. The storage space for bikes, kayaks and wet gear makes it convenient for guests looking to make the most of Brighton's landscape, and their pet friendly policy means dogs can join in the fun. So if you are looking for a B&B in Brighton with a touch of luxury, contact the The Oriental to arrange your stay now.
