Wednesday 23 March, 2022

Clip Studio Paint, the illustration, comic, and animation app developed and distributed by Celsys, will come bundled with the Samsung Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 with S Pen slated for release in the coming months. The Samsung Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 is available for pre-order in the United States from March 18, ahead of its launch in other international markets.

Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 users get access to six months of Clip Studio Paint PRO for free[*1], allowing them to get creative and start drawing with the S Pen straight away without the need to do anything more than purchase the computer. After the free offer has ended, customers will be able to purchase the single-payment version of Clip Studio Paint at a 20% discount.

The Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 is a powerful yet thin and light laptop computer from the Galaxy Book lineup aimed at the creative market. Users can experience an incomparably realistic drawing experience with the included S Pen.

To download Clip Studio Paint and issue the software's serial number, Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 users simply need to launch Clip Studio Paint START for SC, which comes preinstalled as standard.

Additionally, owners of Galaxy smartphones[*2] with Clip Studio Paint installed can connect to their Galaxy Book2 Pro 360 or Galaxy Tab device through Wi-Fi in Companion mode[*3]. In Companion mode, Galaxy smartphones can act as a palette for easy access to colors and brushes for use on the canvas on the connected computer, making for a more comfortable and efficient creative experience.
