Competition to discover what modern day #robinhoodsays…

Monday 26 June, 2017

Visit Newark and Sherwood is celebrating the summer season with the fantastic #robinhoodsays... film-making and photo competition.

What would a 21st century Robin Hood say? What cause would he follow? For who would he campaign? People are invited to send in their Robin Hood messages as photos or videos. These will be displayed on social media and the winning modern-day Robin Hood will receive a luxury Sherwood Forest Holiday. It consists of:

- A weekend break for four at the idyllic Sherwood Hideaway woodland retreat – a two-bedroom luxury lodge with private hot tub.
- Saturday carvery lunch for four at The Savile Restaurant, set in the original kitchens of the aristocratic former owner of Rufford Abbey.
- A 2-hour interactive falconry experience for four people at Thoresby Park courtyard, supplied by Hawks of Steele.

Entries can be sent by email to tourism.support@newark-sherwooddc.gov.uk or made on the @visitnewarksherwood Facebook page. You might want to dress up, or use the #robinhoodsays... sign that is downloadable at http://www.visitnewarkandsherwood.info/competitions. The winning entry will be the cutest, cleverest or funniest. The competition runs until Sunday 30 July 2017.
