Coronavirus Crisis by Mass Experience, a dance anthem for the locked down generation!

Friday 25 September, 2020

The debut single 'Coronavirus Crisis' by Mass Experience is a thumping retro-electronica track reminiscent of early 90s rave, created for "the lockdown generation".

Mass Experience are a radical showbiz family of high-voltage creatives in Sydney Australia. Soul mates, Katie M Little (comedian and writer) and Timothy Poulton (internationally renowned landscape photographer) and their three children.

With careers and schooling grounded, they turned to music as an outlet to express the spectrum of emotions their family was experiencing due to lockdown and the anxiety provoked by navigating continually changing circumstances.

As parents, Timothy and Katie openly admit to raising their children to be "little punks" – to question every facet of a society driving itself towards destruction, to be informed and equipped with an armoury of creative skills to express themselves and navigate the turbulent decades to come.

As a family their vision is to inspire and energise people to live their most authentic lives, motivated and united by passion and love – and to get up and dance!

Working with producer Chris Hamer-Smith from Forbes Street Studio, their forthcoming album 'Sitting with Demons'draws on old school breakbeat, indie-electronica and 60's inspired psychedelia – they invite you to join their Mass Experience.

Listen to 'Coronavirus Crisis' on all good digital music platforms.
