

Covid-19 Taxi Service for key workers

Tuesday 17 March, 2020

After announcing they were waging war on Coronavirus, Licensed London Taxi Drivers have now escalated their campaign to help key workers get to/from their place of work.

The co-founder of Noir Taxi, Peter Schive, said: "many people are now self isolating and working from home, so its very important for key workers who maintain backend services to have safe transport to/from their place of business, as they allow others to keep working from home whilst self isolating".

To ensure key workers are safely transported, Noir Taxi's new measures include drivers sanitising their hands, vehicle handles, card payment machines and also airing/disinfecting the passenger compartment before each pre booked ride.

Unlike private hire cars (mini cabs), London Taxis also offer the added protection of privacy glass separating drivers from passengers, which helps to minimise airborne contact and reduce the risk of coronavirus being passed on.

Noir Taxi pre-book service is currently focused on sanitised taxi transport for people coming out of self isolation, key workers and essential staff to/from their place of business. They also offers bespoke sanitised services for people and businesses who require tailored journeys.

If you intend travelling to London in the coming days/weeks/months, or if you are a key worker requiring a fully sanitised taxi to and from your place of work(e.g. hospitals/GP surgeries/schools), please visit www.noirtaxi.com or download the app from the App Store or Google Play.

Use the code CORONA to receive a 20% discount on your first sanitised Noir Taxi journey!
