Crazy Domains Offers All-Round IT Services For Pinoy SMEs

Wednesday 20 July, 2016

Philippines – July 20, 2016 – Crazy Domains, a brand under Dreamscape Networks, is blazing a trail for Filipino entrepreneurs, with a range of great services for small-to-medium businesses.

Australia's number one registrar comes to the Philippines to offer invaluable premium quality online solutions to Filipino SMEs, helping them establish an online presence and build their brand with innovative online marketing tools and strategies.

In addition to that, now available to all Filipinos is Crazy Domains' newest TLD: the dot PH.

Official government agencies and multinational companies aren't the only ones who can afford to use a dot PH domain. Now, any business in the country, from small start-ups to larger enterprises, can register and own a dot PH website showcasing Filipino ingenuity to consumers not only within the country, but also around the globe. Dreamscape Networks CEO, Mark Evans, said: "Our brand purpose is to make it Crazy easy for anyone to succeed online, and that's why we get out of bed in the morning. Because in this day and age, if you're not online, you're invisible."

With his vast experience and global vision, Evans recognises the importance of an online presence. In connection to that, he plans to make available all the innovative online solutions his company has to offer to Filipino entrepreneurs and entrepreneurs-in-the-making to help them establish, maintain, and grow their businesses online.

There are many reasons why dot PH domains are best suited for businesses of all shapes and sizes operating within the Philippines.

Having a country-specific domain can boost your search engine ranking, and improve your site's SEO performance.

The web's big brother, Google, Geotargets a domain name's ccTLD (Country Code Top-Level Domain) when rolling out search results. This means that when a search is done in the Philippines, your dot PH domain gets a leg up in the searches because it recognises the user's location and assumes that they are looking for a local business, which they probably are.

Domain suffixes such as dot PH make for more specific user-targeted search results, helping Google provide better service to its millions of users.

A dot PH suffix will also lend your domain name, and in turn, your business, more market value and credibility as a Filipino enterprise.

Having your own domain and professional email address brands your business with every email you send — fighting back against free email addresses, which are widely used for fraud, and could suggest you aren't a legitimate business.

Supporting Filipino entrepreneurs, Crazy Domains offers not only attractively low-cost domain name registration, but also highly affordable online solutions.

Pinoy start-ups can now build their business websites or set up online shops, as well as implement effective online marketing strategies for their branding, getting them the attention necessary for business stability and success.

Without a doubt, the internet can benefit one's business by making customer engagement and transactions fast, easy, and user-friendly. More than that, it can also boost your branding by increasing your online visibility, bringing your business to more consumers locally and internationally.

With its main goals of "providing simple, innovative, and affordable online products and services that change lives" Crazy Domains has been a place to call home for millions of domains because of its crazily good prices and crazy deals. Crazy Domains has offices and data centres worldwide, and among the
