INDONESIA - JULY 20, 2016 – Australia's number 1 web hosting provider and domain registrar has officially launched Crazy Domains Indonesia, a brand under Dreamscape Networks, and is celebrating it with Crazy deals.

Expanding its business to the people and businesses of Southeast Asia, the company is on a mission to better assist microbusinesses and small-to-medium enterprises grow by providing them with premium quality web services for unbeatable value.

Dreamscape Networks CEO, Mark Evans, said:

"As Australia's number one domain brand, we feel like it's a natural progression for us to help our Indonesian customers build their online presence. Our brand purpose is to make it Crazy easy for anyone to succeed online, and that's why we get out of bed in the morning: to help our customers achieve their online goals. In this day and age, if you're not online, you're invisible."

Having an online presence is an essential part of setting up and managing a business in the 21st century. It contributes to a business' accessibility to consumers and has proven an effective tool for brand building campaigns.

As Southeast Asia's largest economy and the world's fourth-most populated country, Indonesia has experienced immense progress in the last decade with an information technology sector that has steadily been on the rise for several years in a row.

According to a recent coverage in the The Wall Street Journal, in Indonesia there has been a significant increase of job search websites, and digital advertising has taken off the past few years. Clearly, the Emerald of the Equator is giving the major players of the world a run for their money in terms of telecommunications and other technological advancements.

Without a doubt, the internet can benefit one's business by making customer engagement and transaction fast, easy, and user-friendly. More than that, it can also boost branding by increasing online visibility, bringing businesses to more consumers locally and internationally.

Initially founded as a domain registrar in Australia, Crazy Domains provides web hosting, website design, online marketing, servers, and online business packages, and has offices and data centres around the globe.

With its main goals of "providing simple, innovative, and affordable online products and services that change lives", Crazy Domains has been a place to call home for millions of domains because of its crazily good prices and crazy deals.
