

Crypto Adoption Shifts Toward Passive Income—DEAL Mining Leads the Cloud Mining Surge

Thursday 24 July, 2025

London, 24 July 2025 – As the cryptocurrency market matures and regulatory clarity improves, more investors are shifting away from high-volatility trading towards passive income strategies. In this emerging landscape, cloud mining is experiencing a surge in adoption—led by trusted platforms like DEAL Mining.

Founded in 2016 and headquartered in the United Kingdom, DEAL Mining has become a key player in the global digital asset infrastructure space. The platform enables users to participate in cryptocurrency mining without owning hardware, managing electricity, or understanding complex blockchain protocols.

“The new wave of crypto adoption isn’t driven by speculation—it’s driven by stability,” said a spokesperson from DEAL Mining. “Our goal is to help everyday users earn predictable income through automated, AI-powered cloud mining backed by clean energy.”

? Cloud Mining: A Scalable Entry Point for Passive Crypto Income

Cloud mining allows users to lease hashpower from remote mining farms, with daily rewards automatically credited to their wallets. DEAL Mining simplifies this process with:

- Zero hardware requirements – All mining is conducted via cloud infrastructure.
- AI-optimized mining allocation – Profitability is maximized through smart resource distribution.
- Green energy power – Mining operations run on wind, solar, and hydro sources, reducing the environmental impact.
- Secure infrastructure – Powered by McAfee® and Cloudflare® technologies.
- Multi-currency support – Including BTC, DOGE, ETH, LTC, SOL, BNB, USDT, USDC, and more.

With over 6.8 million users across 200+ countries and regions, DEAL Mining has become a trusted solution for individuals seeking sustainable exposure to the digital economy.
