

Currencyflow Launches to Enhance International Money Transfers with Industry Expertise and Personalised Service

Wednesday 14 May, 2025

Backed by a powerhouse team of experts, Currencyflow offers personalised service and expert guidance for cross-border payments, targeting key markets including the UK, mainland Europe, the US, and the UAE.

LONDON, United Kingdom — Today marks the official launch of Currencyflow, a personalised money transfer service designed to guide individuals and businesses through the process of sending money abroad. Combining the extensive industry experience of founders Andy Dyer and Stuart Pritchard with the marketing and product expertise of Freddie Smith, Currencyflow is committed to providing a hands-on, personal service that ensures clients know exactly what's happening with their transactions at every step.

About Currencyflow

With a strong focus on innovation, security, and user experience, Currencyflow offers competitive exchange rates and a seamless process for fast, secure international money transfers. Unlike traditional online money transfer platforms, Currencyflow prioritises building relationships with clients, ensuring they are fully informed about exchange rates and the status of their transfers. Whether for personal or business purposes, Currencyflow helps clients make informed decisions about their international money transfers, offering transparency, security, and superior customer care. Initially targeting the UK, mainland Europe, the US, and the UAE, Currencyflow provides a more customer-focused alternative to traditional remittance services.

"We're thrilled to officially launch Currencyflow.com, offering a service that simplifies international money transfers and removes the uncertainty often associated with them," said Andy Dyer, Co-Founder of Currencyflow. "Bringing together our collective expertise in the financial and technology sectors, our mission is to make the process as simple, transparent, and secure as possible. We provide personalised service for every transaction, ensuring that each client is fully informed and confident throughout the entire process, no matter the size or complexity of their transfer."

Ongoing Communication and Support

Currencyflow's approach to international money transfers involves continuous, proactive communication with clients. From initial consultation to completion of the transaction, customers will receive real-time exchange rate updates, progress updates, and clear answers to any questions they may have. This approach is particularly beneficial for clients handling larger transactions, where transparency and a personal touch are key.

Plans for Growth

As the company grows, Currencyflow plans to expand its services to include more currencies and payment methods, continuing to offer personalised support to meet the unique needs of businesses and individuals. The focus will remain on delivering exceptional customer care, ensuring that every client has a smooth and stress-free experience.

Company Overview

Currencyflow is a personalised money transfer service focused on providing individuals and businesses with a simple, efficient, and secure solution for sending money abroad. With a team of industry veterans and an emphasis on customer-centric services, Currencyflow is committed to delivering competitive rates, low fees, and a seamless user experience.
