Demand for Powerball Tickets Crashing Major Online Vendors. Which One is Reliable?

Wednesday 13 January, 2016

Nothing has ever captured global attention as much as the current Powerball draw. Many new questions have been asked on many websites, newspapers and blogs. The primary concern is how to play this Lottery when you don't live in the USA and which one is operational? The answer thankfully is very simple, buy online. How do people buy online reliably is the next most popular question.

We have looked extensively into this and came up with the best option, Lotto365.com. Their website is working well even under the massive strain, it's very simple to use and it only take a few clicks to purchase a ticket. Both the website and the mobile interface opens up quickly and lists all the Lotteries that are available to play. One click and you can buy 6 tickets at once, with the option of choosing the numbers to be automatically generated or manually chosen. Once that is done and you click Proceed you just fill in your details to register and then Buy using your credit card. The numbers you have chosen can be seen right away in the My Tickets section and you can relax that you have participated in the Biggest Lottery Jackpot the World has ever seen.

Lotto365.com also offer some unique features that are innovative and very clever. MegaLines is a major breakthrough for Lottery Pool tickets. The tickets are bought already and then sold off as Entries to Lotto 365 members. This means that members are playing with more lines than they would normally buy, which increases their chance of hitting the Jackpot. And it is for a much cheaper price as the cost is split between the Entrants. What really caught our eye is the 1000 lines Powerball MegaLines for only $500, which would normally cost $2000, and the possibly prize could be $40 Million per entry.

Plenty of other options are available for other Lotteries too and it might make sense to try out the Florida lottery right now as it is at $31 Million and there is a 10x greater chance of hitting the Jackpot as Powerball. There is no doubt that this once in a lifetime Jackpot is worth playing and Lotto365.com is the best option to get your tickets.
