

Dimebox launches Connect, a third-party integration solution for PSPs

Wednesday 21 March, 2018

Amsterdam, the Netherlands, March 12, 2018 —

Dimebox, a global payment technology provider, announced the release of Connect, expanding their powerful gateway platform with extensive connector capabilities. With Connect, payment service providers can quickly interface with potentially any third-party payment processor, import externally processed payments data, and add valuable inspection metadata to every transaction in real time.

Dimebox's solutions, including transaction processing, fraud prevention, and data analytics, are all offered through one platform with a unified API. With Connect, clients can choose from a list of existing connections to go live within days, and Dimebox can integrate new third-party connections on demand within weeks.

Connect features three unique types of connectors:

- Processors offer a broad selection of payment processing options, enabling clients to choose from a menu of ready-to-use card acquiring processors and alternative payment methods, or to request new ones. Multiple processors can be used with a given merchant account, one for each unique payment method, providing a high level of transaction routing capability.
- Importers enable transaction data relating to payments processed elsewhere to be imported into the Dimebox database to facilitate reporting and analysis alongside payments processed natively.
- Inspectors scan through the details of a transaction request and use third-party data sources to add additional metadata in real time, such as IP geolocation or card attribute analysis, providing opportunities to improve the accuracy of fraud prevention and customer analytics.

"A key mission at Dimebox is to facilitate the success of our clients by providing them with flexible and powerful payments infrastructure. We enable them to quickly connect to a range of third-party services, freeing them to focus valuable resources on creating the most value for their customers." said David Jokinen, Chief Product Officer of Dimebox.
