?Donations are cost neutral when you use SocialBox.Biz for electronic recycling

Monday 15 February, 2016

The most socially responsible and cost effective electronic recycling can be acquired by using SocialBox .Biz for your next redundant IT removal and storage. Dedicated to making the entire process easy, efficient, and cost neutral, SocialBox.Biz is providing incredible incentives to utilize their services for benefiting people, communities, and your overall Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

When it's time to get rid of your extra corporate computer or laptops, SocialBox.Biz will arrange a collection of items in an environmentally sound way. They will arrange removal of data right at the collection location.

Committed to sustainable business, SocialBox.Biz will install charity software and any other requirements to make the refurbished electronics suitable for charities. They will see your excess computers, servers, laptops and chargers are safely transported to those in need of it. A fraction of the equipment will be sold to cover the costs of relaying the electronics to the charities.

This donation process, unlike any other in the UK, will send your CSR through the roof. Old electronics can be refurbished, recycled, and re-homed to those who need it most. From your incredible CSR ratings, the public will take notice, and your business success will increase along with your positive social impact of helping charities and the homeless. Consider using SocialBox.Biz's revolutionary services today for the next time you need to clear out leftover electronics.
