Dr Giorgini: Naturally kind products for your health and beauty

Wednesday 22 October, 2014

Dr Giorgini: European company, nestled amidst the stunning hills between Tuscany and Emilia-Romagna, in Italy, leader in the manufacturing and sales of 100% natural food supplements and cosmetics.

With over 1000 products in its catalogue, including special offers and daily deals, drgiorgini.co.uk is considered to be one of the largest European mono-brand stores for sports, food supplements and cosmetics.

The Italian company has been trading since 1977, starting up as a simple herbalist's shop. Since then, it has earned the trust of tens-of-thousands of regular clients by working hard to deliver a top-quality product.

All food supplements are 100% natural (they do not contain parabens, mineral oils [paraffin oils], synthetic perfumes, and, where possible, preservatives), produced and manufactured directly by the company in Italy to strict standards and have been notified to the Italian Ministry of Health.

The manufacturing techniques deployed by Dr Giorgini are ancient and innovative at the same time, as they aim at preserving both the natural active ingredients, the core of our health and well-being, and the energy of life, a concept around which the whole company philosophy revolves. This to create a nutritional energy balance to stay healthy and fit, both physically and psychologically.

Starting from a selection of raw materials that, besides the usually required high quality standards, must not be exposed to radiations, and, continuing with the production chain, all those techniques that may reduce or destroy the energy of life still present in plants (e.g.: heat and pressure above the environmental range values, ultrasounds, microwaves, strong acids and bases ...) are accurately avoided. Thanks to this unique manufacturing technique, the energy of sunlight "fixed" into plants by chlorophyllian photosynthesis is saved and present in all Dr Giorgini products.

Dr Giorgini production unit, 500 m above sea level and out in the open, allows collecting water from rain and dew, to be then used in manufacturing processes, instead of the common deionised water, coming from waterworks and springs.

Besides food supplements, Dr Giorgini line also includes body, hair care, face and sun cosmetics, face and body cleansers, insect repellent and after-bite products, which are formulated using only top-quality ingredients and scented with only natural essential oils and contain no artificial fragrances.
