Easter eCards- Send Free or Donate Option Announced by Hope Spring

Monday 3 April, 2023

You do not have to pay to send a charity Easter eCard on Hope Spring charity eCard platform if you are sending one this Easter weekend. In a post on the organisation's website, Hope Spring is inviting visitors and regular users of their platform to send one or more Easter eCards from their site free of charge. The platform raises funds exclusively for Hope Spring water, as announced on Friday, 2nd of April 2023.

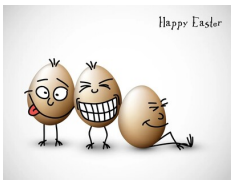

Easter is more associated with chocolate eggs bunnies than an occasion to send eCards. Despite that, millions of eCards are exchanged around the world, by friends, family, and work colleagues. Hope Spring eCards is expecting their platform to be busy during the Easter weekend. According to platform creator and Hope Spring founder, Temi Odurinde. His organisation would like as many people to send Easter greetings, whether they are able to donate or not.

When you send an eCard from Hope Spring, you are required to make a donation. Over the Easter holiday, you do not have to make a donation. You just need to obtain a free promo code from the free charity ecard page on their website. The code allows you to send as many Easter ecards as you like. The code also allows you to send other eCards, such as birthday and anniversary eCards.

According to Temi Odurinde, " we want to encourage people to stay in touch with loved ones over the Easter weekend. The best thing is to see your loved one in person, Where that is not possible, sending a Hope Spring Easter ecard can be a good substitute" He added that "we waved the mandatory donation so that no one will be prevented from sending an eCard because they are not able to make a donation".

Hope Spring ecard platform has hundreds of static Easter cards and animated ecards to choose from, personalise and send. You can find more information about Hope Spring eCards on their website.
