eBay sellers get sizzling summer discount with Parcel2Go

Thursday 13 August, 2020

Parcel2Go, the shipping price comparison platform, has announced a 10% discount on its prices for all eBay sellers.

Savvy sellers can take advantage of the offer until 16th August, with Parcel2Go offering the discount on all items shipped domestically using their innovative Smart Send service.

Smart Send takes the work out of eBay selling by allowing sellers to import their sold items and buyer details in seconds, automatically mark them as dispatched, and easily tweak or remove orders at any time. It also takes away the work of tricky buyer disputes with comprehensive tracking features and allows sellers to quickly download invoices and statements for orders.

Sellers linking their eBay account to Parcel2Go's Smart Send feature will benefit from a slick, easy to use integration, as well as being able to compare prices from the biggest couriers in the UK.

This means sellers aren't just saving money – with prices starting from just £1.79 – they're saving time, too.

A spokesperson for Parcel2Go said: "Selling online is so easy with eBay – but the shipping experience often leaves a lot to be desired. We're keen to show sellers it can be straightforward, simple, and with great prices – leaving more profit for the seller, without the hassle."

"The past few months have shown how important reliable, reasonably-priced shipping can be. During lockdown, we've turned to online shopping even more than we did before – whether it was for essentials or treating ourselves, we had to do it online.

"Offering eBay sellers a discount on our service means that customers and sellers alike will be able to benefit from our unique comparison service. This means better rates on shipping with the biggest name couriers in the business – it's a win-win for everybody! We're proud to support sellers, big and small, with this offer, and we're confident they'll be blown away by how easy Parcel2Go is to use – as well as our prices."
