

Economic Recovery Celebrated by Marketing on 6th, NYC, Inc.

Tuesday 17 June, 2014

As the jobless rate in America plunges to 6.3%, the American people have many reasons to celebrate. Direct Marketing firm, Marketing on 6th, NYC, Inc are also in good spirits as this recovery is assisting with a spike in sales.

New government data revealed the American nation had added 288,000 more jobs in April this year, an encouraging sign that the economy has picked up momentum since dropping over the winter period.

The economic growth had been virtually non-existent during the first quarter of the year and the recent boost in spring is very encouraging for further economic normalization. The only downside, the report revealed, is that the nation's work force shrank by more than 800,000 workers in April. However, the data showed that the number of long-term unemployed fell to 3.5 million in April and the number of people in part-time positions, for economic reasons, reached 7.5 million.

San Francisco Fed President John Williams and Atlanta Fed President Dennis Lockhart have said they believe the first rate increase should come when the jobless rate falls to about 6 percent. Both predicted that would not happen until next year but with this year's recent flurry that goal post is now much closer.
