Eco Sash & Case is growing and expanding into new areas. It has launched an all-new website to accompany the next stage of its business growth.

28th Feb 2022 - Eco Sash & Case, the Scottish specialist in casement windows and sash windows, is expanding its business and has launched a new website to accompany the next stage in its growth.

The new website presents a modern and user-friendly design that optimises the experience for customers. The business wanted to make the experience of browsing and ordering its services online even easier as well as more visually appealing and more intuitive to better reflect its branding.

Another primary purpose of the redesign was to make the website more visible for people across Scotland searching for the specialist services that the business provides, especially in the new areas where it is now operating.

The new website accompanies an expansion into several new areas around Scotland. Over the last few years, the business has seen significant growth. It has recently undergone a period of expansion that has seen it expand its services to East Lothian, West Lothian, Fife and Edinburgh in addition to the existing location the business operates in.

All these places are key locations for Eco Sash & Case due to the large number of people living in the areas who own period properties and require the specialist services the business provides.

Eco Sash & Case provides new sash windows, sash window repair and refurbishment, draught-proofing, double glazing upgrades and casement windows. The specialists at the business restore and repair casement windows as well as sash and case windows. They also manufacture new windows in their workshop.

Eco Sash & Case is a family business with over 100 years combined experience and it provides a complete solution and guaranteed work. It offers an eco-friendly and sustainable service for its customers in Scotland, and it serves owners of heritage properties, architects, contractors and facilities managers. It takes a holistic environmental approach to its affordable and sustainable window repair and installation service.

Jordan Davidson, Managing Director at Eco Sash & Case, said: “We’re delighted to relaunch our new website as we expand into new areas. Our website is a fundamental part of our business and we wanted it to present a modern and user-friendly design that will help us to provide an even better experience for our valued customers.”
