About Emora: http://www.emoralimited.co.uk/

The firm has been offering their direct marketing services to businesses in Nottingham since establishing last year; initially Emora Limited worked closely alongside clients to test several market areas. This was carried out to ensure the personalised marketing services were launched in the correct locations, that was beneficial for the growth of the firm, the success of their client's business and the economy of the local community. As a result, the success of these campaigns has led to exponential growth for the firm, which has forced them to reconsider their current headquarters and find new premises that can accommodate their progression.

Emora Limited has located a possible new building which could offer the firm space and resources to support their continued growth. The expansion of Emora Limited has given their clients' further market reach and a bigger access to top quality consumers. Also, the firm can launch more campaigns for their clients, in new marketing territories. This will increase their brand's ROI, which will boost their reputation as a leading sales and marketing solution.
