

Euro Credit Holdings Limited Addresses Concerning Information

Thursday 29 February, 2024

Euro Credit Holdings Limited and its Executive Vice President, Rhys Aldous, are addressing certain online claims circulated without supporting evidence. These claims have been made public, necessitating clarification to avoid misunderstandings regarding the business practices and values of the company.

Allegations suggesting misconduct or unethical behaviour are categorically denied. The company emphasizes its adherence to the highest standards of transparency, legality, and integrity in all operations. A commitment to conducting business according to strict ethical guidelines is maintained, ensuring all transactions and interactions are fair and lawful.

Legal measures have been taken to address statements threatening the safety or well-being of staff members. Security of the team is a priority, with decisive actions taken to ensure a safe working environment. Efforts are underway to rectify any misinformation through legal channels to protect the company's reputation.

Clients, partners, and the public are invited to reach out directly with inquiries or for further clarification on these issues. A commitment to openness ensures readiness to discuss any concerns and provide accurate information about operations.

Euro Credit Holdings Limited continues to focus on delivering exceptional financial services. Gratitude is expressed for the ongoing support from clients, partners, and team members, with confidence in the continued adherence to ethical business conduct.
