Fast-track Functional Skills with online exams now available

Monday 24 January, 2022

Many individuals find themselves at a stand-still in their career when unexpectedly they have been asked by a prospective employer or further education authority to provide proof of a level 2 qualification in Maths and English. This has caused many issues, as GCSE examinations can only be taken at specific times during the year and colleges also have reduced intakes for Functional Skills.

With all of this in mind, Learn Now Distance Learning College has recently launched a new initiative to enable learners to complete Functional Skills examinations online in conjunction with a fast-track course.

The platform is happy to announce a new way learners can take Functional Skills exams in the comfort and privacy of their own homes, providing they have access to the necessary equipment. Using a computer and a smartphone, learners can efficiently take English and Maths Functional Skills Level 2 examinations with the added feature of being able to book at flexible times.

Online Functional Skills for Maths & English

Learn Now's new remote Functional Skills examinations could be perfect for learners who are unable to attend an exam centre and they are proud to become one of the exclusive providers in the country able to offer learners remote Functional Skills examinations.

Remote examinations are exams that can be taken from anywhere providing internet access is available and uses innovative virtual classroom technology. On top of that, learners can complete the exam on their own, together with an invigilator observing through a webcam to ensure everyone is following the proper exam guidelines.

Learn Now will assist private candidates with exam entry for Functional Skills English and Maths as offered through the relevant examination board, which will result in a regulated qualification. Such examinations are available to everyone, including home-educated/home-schooled and mature students.

Importance of Functional Skills Level 2 Examination

Functional skills are the foundation for any future qualifications, study, and work opportunities. As a respected alternative to GCSE qualifications, this practical skills course was designed to provide the most practical solution to learn and understand.

The Functional Skills English and Maths Level 2 online course consists of everything needed to gain the necessary skills required to complete Functional Skills examinations. This solution has been designed, thanks to the advanced remote software technology, allowing learners to plan and organise their exams ahead of time, without the added pressure of classroom and schedule constraints.

An added bonus of the Functional Skills course is that it was created with a mix of supported packages, also providing learners with the benefit of a dedicated tutor who will give the necessary guidance and support.

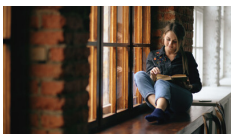

Learn Now are a unique centre offering tuition services to enhance the students' understanding and improve their knowledge of Maths and English.This new system, will help to improve academic skills, removing any barriers to learning.
