New Documentary Could Be the Catalyst for UK UFO Disclosure

Filmmaker calls on UK Prime Minister and President Trump to end 40 years of secrecy over Rendlesham Forest incident

London, UK – June 10 2025

Filmmaker Mark Christopher Lee is set to release a groundbreaking new documentary that could finally break the decades-long silence surrounding the Rendlesham Forest UFO incident of 1980—widely considered the UK's most compelling and well-documented UFO event.

More than just a retelling of a historic mystery, the film is positioned as a direct challenge to government secrecy, with Lee openly calling on the UK Prime Minister and former U.S. President Donald Trump to disclose the truth about what really happened in Rendlesham over four decades ago.

"This isn't just another UFO story," says Lee. "Our research confirms there was a deliberate cover-up by the Thatcher government, in coordination with the U.S. military. What they were hiding may have involved advanced technology being tested without public knowledge—technology that may have gone disastrously wrong."

The documentary combines rare archival footage, firsthand military witness accounts, and original field investigations in the forest itself—where Lee and his team documented what they describe as anomalous, unexplained phenomena. These strange occurrences appear to mirror the bizarre events reported by U.S. Air Force personnel stationed at RAF Woodbridge in December 1980.

"What happened there hasn't gone away. People still visit Rendlesham and report strange behaviour, odd readings, physical effects. We experienced it ourselves, and we were lucky enough to capture it on film."

Lee believes the implications of the incident—and its continued cover-up—are too significant to ignore any longer. In light of increasing global openness around UFO phenomena, especially following the U.S. Pentagon's recent disclosures and congressional hearings, Lee insists that the UK must now come clean.

"This film is our way of forcing the conversation forward," Lee adds. "We are calling on the current UK Prime Minister, as well as President Trump—who has hinted publicly at knowing more than he's allowed to say—to tell the world the truth. The public deserves answers."

The documentary titled The Rendlesham UFO The British Roswell is premiering at the Raindance Film Festival in London on June 24th. Lee and fellow director Roderick Godman have been nominated for best director for this film.

It will likely ignite widespread public interest—not just among UFO enthusiasts but among citizens who believe in transparency, accountability, and the right to know what governments are keeping hidden.

As pressure mounts worldwide for disclosure, Lee's film could mark a turning point in the UK, where official silence has reigned for far too long.
