FindBits: Access the World of Cryptocurrencies the Way You Like

Tuesday 17 July, 2018

Though cryptocurrency exchanges are abundant and seemingly multiplying, buyers and sellers can still face challenges in their efforts to obtain and offload cryptocurrency in a straightforward and anonymous fashion. Due to increasing rules and regulations, verification measures are becoming more time-consuming and invasive. As a result, opening an exchange account to make a cryptocurrency transaction can be unnecessarily difficult and sometimes outright impossible depending on a user's location.

At FindBits, we recognize the difficulties cryptocurrency traders face, and we're looking to provide a more appealing alternative for those in search of a better solution. On the buyer side, if you're looking to purchase cryptocurrency in a direct, private, and quick manner, FindBits might be a good fit for you. Similarly, if you're lacking required documentation or proper identification and struggling to get your hands on cryptocurrency altogether, FindBits simplifies the process and provides an easy way to enter the world of cryptocurrency trading.

As a peer-to-peer (P2P) marketplace, FindBits allows for direct purchases of Bitcoin and Litecoin, requires no lengthy buyer identification, and takes absolutely no commission. On FindBits, you can say goodbye to hidden costs; all you have to worry about is paying the seller. Taking zero fees, FindBits allows buyers and sellers to meet at a mutually agreed upon price and receive maximal value. Even further, users can choose from an extensive variety of payment options. Whether you prefer to buy through gift cards, cash deposits, or online transfers, there's no shortage of options on FindBits. As you can see below, each of these payment categories contains a selection of many different opportunities to buy or sell Bitcoin and Litecoin.

- Gift Cards: Amazon, iTunes, OneVanilla Visa/Mastercard, Walmart, Best Buy, Playstation Network, Steam, and more.
- Cash Deposits: Western Union, MoneyGram, Cash in Person, and many other methods.
- Online Transfers: PayPal, Perfect Money, NetSpend, etc.

We use BitGo—a secure, third-party service—and its private, multi-signature wallets to process transactions through the blockchain, making FindBits a safe trading environment and enabling you to make worry-free purchases with ease. To add an extra layer of security to our platform, users are quickly vetted through simple location information, mobile number verification, and other processes.

With these measures in place, our trusted sellers can rest assured they will be properly compensated for their Bitcoin or Litecoin when connecting through FindBits. Our private communication infrastructure is powered by Pusher, a chat and communication system leader; pairing this with a reputation and feedback system gives FindBits' traders ample opportunity to engage in confident interaction before, during, and after transactions.
