Tuesday 30 August, 2022

With another successful round of funding, Fully-Verified expands the functionality of its automated identity verification solutions. It has become one of the few KYC services on the market that focuses on optimizing success rates and enabling rapid customer onboarding while keeping price spreads at accessible levels.

In 2022, Fully-Verified redefined its KYC services with further enhancements to its automated services. Auto-Verify, the new and improved automated KYC service, is designed for businesses in various industries such as fintech, crypto, payments, and many more. Fully-Verified identity verifications are backed by automated document recognition and validation technology, facial recognition, machine learning, artificial intelligence, sanctions & pep checks, as well as trained verification specialists.

Company has the opportunity to enhance the overall customer experience by offering a superior product at competitive prices, expanding global market visibility, and enriching the Fully-Verified team with KYC industry experts. Progress will be further accelerated by the new round of funding from investors such as Fernando Herrera, Risto Valtakari, Dariusz Dwornikowski, Samuli Koski-Lammi, together with the Pomerangels VC fund and the Invento Capital VC fund.

"We are very pleased to secure another round of funding, which will allow us to further grow the team and enable our clients to turn their onboarding processes into a competitive advantage rather than a hindrance. All of this falls within the more than acceptable price range for companies with low budgets. We would like to thank current and past investors such as Startup Wise Guys for their trust and professional support. " - said Lukasz Kwiatkowski, CEO
