Further enabling customer success through professional and managed services

Farnborough, Surrey, UK. June 15, 2021 – Gradian today announced it was among the first selected to join Broadcom's new services-oriented Expert Advantage partner program. Gradian has extensive experience with the Symantec portfolio and is well equipped to deliver true value to its customers.

Damian Acklam, CEO & Founder at Gradian, said:

"We're really excited to be chosen as an Expert Advantage partner and believe this accreditation is a sign of the strength of our partnership. As a holder of all 3 of the Symantec global certifications we represent true value for customers. Our early selection and inclusion in the program represent a clear endorsement of not just the business commitment we have made to Broadcom but also our technical expertise across the Symantec portfolio."

Gradian is now also included in Broadcom's Expert Advantage Partner Finder Tool. This new tool allows customers to search for partners in their region with specific attributes based on their unique requirements such as a partner's certifications, capabilities, country, and language coverage.
