Greenbank start a new partnership with Innovative Alliance as their Charity of the Year

Wednesday 16 October, 2019

We're delighted to announce that we have been chosen by Innovative Alliance to be their Charity of the Year. The partnership will help us to continue to support people achieve their potential through inclusive education, sport and leisure activities.

Mary Beaumont, Greenbank CEO, said:

"I am delighted that we are going to be working closer with Innovative Alliance over the next 12 months. I am also hoping that the relationship is just the beginning of a longer-term partnership which sees a higher number of Greenbank students and community participants, many who have learning difficulties and disabilities, progress into further education and employment."

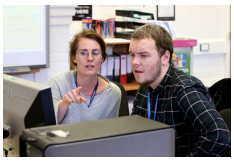

Innovative Alliance are an adult education provider based in the Liverpool City Region. They will be supporting Greenbank by hosting fundraising events throughout the year as well as providing educational partnership opportunities and reciprocal training for staff members.

Innovative Alliance CEO Ian Green commented:

"The work that Greenbank does is inspiring. Much like us, they are committed to helping people fulfil their potential and they do this in a supportive and enriching manner.

"As a business we are proud to give back and support our local community through our strong Corporate Social Responsibility commitment, hence why Greenbank were a natural choice. They invest in the lives of others, ultimately having a positive impact on their community as well."
