LAS VEGAS, October 18, 2015 – Already a success with pan-European Property Management companies, eConnect is proven to cut postal costs, lower productivity and reduce each company's carbon footprint.

eConnect is currently being used in 7 countries operated by regional offices each branding correspondence in their own language and each country office with their unique regional contact identity.

Dean Nixon Global Technical Director of TopUp Consultants - EMEA's largest independent Real Estate technology specialist - announced today TopUp Consultants will launch their Digital Correspondence product, eConnect, in the US at the annual MRI Software International User Conference (IUC) in Las Vegas, USA on Monday 19th and Tuesday 20th October..

“Due to eConnect, TopUp Consultants have become an Authorized Solutions Provider for MRI Software; which means their clients know they can have absolute trust in a proven product to dramatically reduce their postal overheads," explains Dean. “eConnect easily divides all tenant correspondence into digital or land-mail which not only reduces postal savings, it considerably improves a company's strategic approach to carbon management throughout their organisation".

eConnect yields a significant reduction of carbon emissions by cutting the dependence on traditional postal services, stationary and post room equipment.

By automating regular and laborious postal tasks frequently carried out by post room and office staff, eConnect saves a great deal of time and effort.

Email is well known to speed up communications but significantly companies are able to validate each and every correspondence via eConnect's strong reporting features. These features include full email delivery and read receipt tracking to provide safe knowledge that all of their key documents have been received.

Dean Nixon explains some of eConnect's client features. “Tenants have access to their own web portal where they can view all of their historical correspondence and make comments or correspond with the change of personal details. Every time a document is sent the system will automatically place a copy of each document in the corresponding tenant's portal. Our eConnect clients have all had excellent feedback and acceptance from their tenants".
