Wednesday 29 April, 2020

Harlow, UK – 29th April 2020 - Haag-Streit UK (HS-UK), the leading manufacturer and distributor of gold-standard ophthalmic and optometry equipment, has launched a new dedicated COVID-19 web page, in response to the global Coronavirus outbreak.

The COVID-19 web page contains a summary of company statements, helpful resources and educational material, which have been produced to support customers through the COVID-19 pandemic.

HS-UK has released an official statement on its business operations, which outlines how the company is safeguarding the health of employees and customers, while preserving the ability to operate and supply at this time. There is also a statement from the HS-UK Service Division regarding the continued repair of ophthalmic equipment.

The COVID-19 page also has links to easy-to-follow disinfection guidelines for Haag-Streit products. These simple guidelines are available for many of the Haag-Streit products and could help reduce the spread of the virus.

In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Haag-Streit Academy has recently launched FREE courses on its E-Learning Portal. The COVID-19 web page has information about the new 'Slit Lamp E-learning Course', the first in the series of these free courses, which is now available to complete online.
